Celestial Artists Share Honors With Utah's Crack Nine

(Special Correspondence of the Star.)

SALT LAKE CITY, April 12.—Previous to our departure from Sacramento for this city we played a game at Lincoln with the town team. The city is a small one, but the ball team is a pretty large one. We broke even, 3 to 3. The umpire stopped the game on account of Jupiter Plovers.

This game was played on April 9. We caught the train at Sacramento that very day for here, and arrived at 7 a. m.

We are to play the best two out of three games with the University of Utah. The first game will be played today at Cooley's Park at 3:30.

The boys seemed to enjoy the trip very much from Sacramento to this place. We saw many wild animals, great mining mills, a big desert with no water and mountains with snow on their heads. There was also snow on the ground coming here from Sacramento.

Even Break with Utah.

SALT LAKE CITY, April 13.—We lost the first game with the University of Utah yesterday by the score of 10 to 5. The game was called in the first half of the sixth by "Red Dog" Devereaux. We were off color at the start and didn't hit our stride till the beginning of the fifth.

We loafed a bit, as we wanted the game called before the time, but in the fifth we hit the ball on the nose. There were about 200 present.

We won our second game with the Utah boys, 22 to 15. It was a very ragged affair, and developed into a proper slugfest match, in which we won out.

We played on the university campers, which is a very nice campers, but we didn't see anyone camping there; perhaps it was too cold, and all the boys had gone to live in the houses.

There is snow on the ground, and

YOUNG TOGO HAS WALLOP

The best picture of Young Togo, the Japanese boxer, ever printed here. Togo is cross-eyed and this peculiarity is said to bother his opponents greatly.

That Togo can take a punch without being hurt is shown by the punishment he took in his first fight. In that contest he was knocked down 27 times in three rounds and in the fourth he put his opponent away. He is not very hard to reach, but his powerful neck seems to render the most tremendous punches futile. His 25 knockouts out of 27 starts prove that he possesses a fairly good punch himself.

Here are Togo's measurements:

Height, 4 feet 10 inches; chest, 38 inches; waist, 22 inches; neck, 17 inches; hat, 7 1/4; glove, 6 1/4; shoe, 2 1/2.

the third game with the Utahs has consequently been called off. We break even with them, anyway.

We leave for Provo early tomorrow morning.

Salt Lake City.

So far as I can see, Salt Lake has got many other cities skinned as far as roads, cottages and cold drinks are concerned. The streets are 125 feet wide and they are all the same.

Three-quarters of the population of the State of Utah are Mormons. Two-thirds of the students at the University of Utah are Mormons, so you see there are enough Mormons to go around.

We met many Mormons who were at one time in the islands. They haven't forgotten Hawaii, and they still remember the taste of poi. Poor things, they can't grow taro near Salt Lake. I talked about it to some of them, however, and their mouths watered.

We went for a joy-ride with some Mormons, and they treated us very nicely, and invited us to their temple, which we found rather slow, considering its magnificent outside appearance. The Mormons claim that their temple is the prize tabernacle in the United States. It is certainly some building.

A Pleat from Provo.

PROVO, April 15.—We left Salt Lake City this a. m. at 8:30 and arrived at Provo at 10:30. We play this afternoon at 4 o'clock on the college campers. We leave for Denver at 6:30 tonight.

We have to leave this city tonight with our baseball suits on. We have no time to change, as we are always on the jump. Gee, but it's very hard work!

This is a very small city, and not at all like Salt Lake City. The Chinese merchants at the latter place entertained us to a banquet yesterday afternoon.

So far we have been entertained by the Chinese merchants wherever we have been, and have certainly had some nice eating.

As to financial status, we are not making much. For the six games we have played the total take-in has only been $250. Gee whizz, but that's small. I guess we can't keep up very long like this.

All the boys are in perfect health, though the weather seems to affect the playing of some of them.

We expect better luck as we work East, where tame Chinamen are, I am told, a curiosity, and not so well acquainted with as on the Pacific slope.

Hoping that my letters are printed and relished by your readers.

Your esteemed correspondent,

KONOHI FAT CHOY.

P. M.—The result of today's game will come by card post.

Bellah of Columbia University has set a new world's record of 12 feet 11 1/4 inches for the pole vault.

YOUNG TOGO.

McCarthy is Very Willing Worker in Training Session

Another good-sized crowd was on hand to watch Young Caples go through his paces at the Orpheum last night.

In addition to his boxing and kindred stunts he did some physical culture stuff on the floor which was watched with interest by those present.

Caples boxed two rounds each with Wahlan, Young Gans and Soldier Miller and showed that, despite the short time he has been at work, he is coming to rapidly.

McCarthy at the Camp.

McCarthy played handball and juggled the medicine ball yesterday afternoon at the marine camp, previous to boxing four rounds with George Ingle. He weighed 142 1/2 pounds after his work.

Johnny is going to work at Camp Very as usual this afternoon and fans are invited to witness him in action.

Forfeits Up.

Yesterday both men placed their names to final articles and deposited $50 appearance money each with Sporting Editor Redington of the Evening Bulletin.

Ladies Invited.

Both Young Caples and McCarthy have a number of friends among the fair sex and several of them have expressed a desire to see the boxers at their training. Having this in mind it is possible that a certain afternoon and evening may be set aside on which ladies will be made welcome at the respective training quarters and the proper steps taken for their reception.

McCarthy a Willing Worker.

Johnny McCarthy is one of the most willing workers that has trained round Honolulu for a long time. He likes to work and would rather train an afternoon in a gymnasium than eat a turkey dinner. In fact, he is almost too fond of work and care has to be taken by his trainer that he doesn't overdo matters. A good many fighters dodge work and managers have to watch them to keep them training; but not this one.

The fighting Irishman puts his whole heart and soul into whatever he does. He punches the bag as though it were some fighter against whom he has had a grudge for fifteen years. He has a wallop for that bag which makes onlookers move to a safe distance to keep from getting it in the eye when the string breaks.

McCarthy really fights his sparring partners. The way he wades into George Ingle is a caution.

McCarthy is not the cleverest boy in the world but he is a bearcat for punishment and can hit; and you can paste that in your bonnet!

Exchange: Johnny McCarthy and George Ingle left Wednesday noon for Honolulu on the steamer Wilhelmina. These Noe Valley young men hope to secure fistfight engagements in the land of the "poi," and probably will take in the Australian circuit before returning to the city. The best wishes of the community follow these sons of Twin Peaks.

San Francisco Bulletin: Johnny McCarthy, a local welterweight, and George Ingle, a local lightweight, left San Francisco this morning for Honolulu, where each boy expects to engage in several boxing contests.

McCarthy received word last week that the game is going again in Honolulu and he expects to pick up some easy money down there. Ingle also expects to do well with the American fighters who are now stopping in Honolulu.

After the boys box a few times in Honolulu it is their intention to go to Australia and meet some of the lads in their class in that country.

DAN O'LEARY IS IN FRISCO

Famous the world over as a pedestrian of national reputation, and especially well known in walking circles in San Francisco back in the seventies, Dan O'Leary walked into San Francisco last week from San Jose, making the fifty-one miles in eleven hours and a half. He was accompanied by James Thompson, John Dillon, George Reames and Charles Cotter. Dan O'Leary, who is a man of sixty-eight years old now, is in San Francisco on a pleasure trip, but he announces that he is willing to race any one, old or young, 500 miles for a side bet of $1000 to $5000. He is also willing to enter into a race from San Francisco to New York with the proviso that no automobile or motorcycle accompany the walkers.

O'Leary was out in San Francisco in 1876, when the walking fad was on the boom. He was one of the first men to participate in a six-day walking match in that city. He was a victor in the then famous match race with Henry Schmel. The aged pedestrian has competed in races and matches all over the world. Back in 1875 he won from E. P. Weston, and again won in 1877. In 1880 he defeated Weston in a match in London. The first two contests were square heel and toe, but the last contest was go-as-you-please style.

Dan O'Leary is undoubtedly one of the most famous of pedestrians and is known to hundreds of San Franciscans.
